

Left Ventricular Functional Recovery Post Coronary Intervention Echocardiographic and Angiographic Study

Abstract

Left ventricle shows improvement of systolic global function and regional function early after coronary intervention. Diabetic patients show non significant improvement in LV function after coronary intervention. Patients who undergo total revascularization show a highly significant improvement in LV function.

(Key Words): Left ventricle, Coronary intervention, Echocardiography